2.	The reasons for the selection of the candidate. Selection shall be with reference to the qualifications, achievements and merit of the candidate, and not mere "winnability" at the polls (not more than 100 words)		He is a popular grass roots worker having a good grip over the entire area and popular with the party workers and the local population in the area. There are three cases against him and that are related to elections and trivial in nature. Thus, the Party decided to field him as its candidate.
3.	Reasons as to why other individuals without criminal antecedents could not be selected as candidates (not more than 100 words)		There are only three cases against him and that related to elections and trivial in nature. Hence, the Party selected him as its candidate over any other person. The local party workers look upto him for his leadership and organizational capabilities.
